| Particularly elastic area, capable of providing the correct support to the head. | Softer area to allow a pleasant accommodation of shoulder for those who sleep on their sides and avoid unpleasant numbness. | Supporting and elastic area, capable of sustaining the lower back. | Progressive zone to correctly support the heaviest part of the body. | Elastic and supporting area, capable of sustaining the body. | Moderately soft area, suitable for supporting calves without compressing them. | Elastic zone, to promote adequate blood circulation. |

For mattresses with removable covers and hypo-allergenic mattresses with non-removable covers, the differing firmness levels of Aquapure® Soya elements on either side of the mattress result in two comfort levels: medium-soft and medium (bi-comfort) or alternatively medium-firm and firm (bi-comfort).

For mattresses with removable covers and hypo-allergenic mattresses with non-removable covers

With seasonal, non-removable covers, Aquapure® Soya elements provide either medium or firm comfort levels.

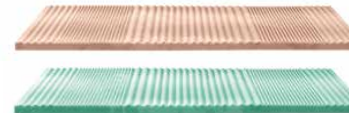

For mattresses with non-removable cover

The exclusive Aquapure® Soya wave surface in seven variable patterns significantly increases comfort of the whole body. The empty spaces between coils, together with the shape of Aquapure® Soya, facilitate air flow inside the mattress.
